DETAILED ACTIONDouble Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-3 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1,2 and 5 of U.S. Patent No. 6,744,900. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they disclose a gasket for use with a microphone and a tube for directing the sound to the microphone with an acoustic filter consisting of a plurality of small holes extending through a relatively thin wall to modify the acoustic response of the microphone. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art that the perforated membrane of the current application and the perforated thin wall of the aforementioned patent provide similar acoustic modification of the acoustical response of the microphone.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2643

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Barnes, U.K. Patent Application GB 2,064,263 A.

Regarding claim 1, Barnes discloses a gasket (4) for use with a microphone (3), comprising: at least one tube (42) for receiving said microphone and for directing sound thereto, said tube giving rise to acoustical response for said microphone; and a perforated membrane (44) within said tube for modifying the acoustical response of said microphone (See Figs. 1 and 2 and lines 53-129). Barnes does not expressly disclose said membrane is integrally molded within the tube. However, Figure 1 clearly illustrates a one piece construction of said tube and membrane and it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to mold such one piece construction for low cost and efficient mass production.

Regarding claim 2, Barnes further discloses said perforated membrane is located adjacent said microphone (See Figs. 1 and 2).

Art Unit: 2643

Regarding claim 3, Barnes does not expressly disclose a plurality of holes distributed evenly across said membrane. However, multiple hole membranes are well-known in the art and membranes with no holes, single holes or multiple holes all provide varying acoustical responses. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide multiple holes for varying the acoustical response of the membrane.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 6-8 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 08/05/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The examiner does not agree that element (44) of Barnes (GB 2,084,263) does not constitute a membrane. Barnes specifically notes that element 44 forms a web with a central aperture between a circular recess (43) and a microphone (3) which modifies the acoustical response of the incoming sound by causing a rapid fall in acoustic response above 3.5 KHz. Further, Barnes does not limit the specific thickness of the web as disclosed.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO

Art Unit: 2643

MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
